

Visit to Hong Kong International Airport

for AScaOAL Programme, Division of Applied Science and Technology, Community College of City University

On 21st April 2016, 28 students from Associate of Science in Airport Operation and Aviation Logistics (AScaOAL) visited the Hong Kong International Airport (HKIA). The visit was led by Dr. Kenny Ma and Mr. Andrew Yam from the Division of Applied Science and Technology and was hosted by Ms. Jenny Chiang from Corporate Communications of the Airport Authority Hong Kong.

The visit consists of tours to the Midfield Concourse, the Integrated Airport Centre and the apron at HKIA. From the comprehensive demonstration over two hours, students gained concrete ideas of the daily operations of airport management, the future development of the airport, the design and layout of the newest concourse, and the operations of aircraft marshalling, etc. The visit also allowed the students to relate the subject knowledge of specialized courses Airport Management, Airline Operations, Aircraft Operations to real practices.
