

Final Year Project Briefing / Sharing + Tick-Tock Tech-Talk

The Division of Applied Science and Technology had organized a Final Year Project Briefing and Sharing Session for Year 1 ISD (Associate of Science in Information Systems Development) students on 23 June 2014. The goal of this session is to facilitate the understanding of importance to kick start the Final Year Project early so as to get better results for both the year-round project and the required courses in the second year of study. The session was well-received with around 34 year 1 students attended the talk.

Note: The session was coordinated by Dr. Desmond Tsoi, Programme Leader of ASiSD.

On that day, three groups of year 2 students were invited to share their experience on Final Year Projects. Topics discussed during the session include (1) how to form a team with people with different skills and interests, (2) how to come up with topic ideas, (3) how to create a fair division of labors, (4) how to deal with the technical challenges of system implementation, and (5) how to write up good documentations.
